INCOMING POULTRY TRADE MISSION FOR VIV EUROPE 2026: STRENGTHENING DUTCH-AFRICAN PARTNERSHIPS ACROSS THE POULTRY FEED-TO-FOOD VALUE CHAIN

Are you ready to strengthen your position in the poultry feed-to-food value chain? Following a successful inaugural edition in 2025, NABC is proud to present the second edition of Dutch Africa Poultry Week, organised in collaboration with VIV Europe and Aeres Training Centre International. Taking place from the 1st-5th of June in the Netherlands, this exclusive five-day programme brings together African poultry business leaders, Dutch Africa Poultry Platform \(DAPP\) members, and leading Dutch solution providers across the poultry feed-to-food value chain.

The programme features a visit to VIV Europe in Utrecht, the Netherlands' largest animal husbandry trade show, alongside targeted knowledge-sharing sessions, curated networking, business matchmaking, and practical field visits to DAPP member companies. With Africa's growing demand for animal protein, the mission offers a unique opportunity to explore scalable solutions, investment opportunities, and long-term partnerships that turn innovation into impact.

WHY PARTICIPATE?

ACCESS SUSTAINABLE SOLUTIONS

Discover market-ready sustainable Dutch technologies and expertise across the full feed-to-food value chain - from feed efficiency and genetics to processing, cold chain, and logistics.

BUILD COMMERCIAL PARTNERSHIPS

Engage directly with DAPP members, Dutch solution providers, and fellow African industry peers to identify concrete business partnerships.

"Participating in the Dutch Africa Poultry Forum was a highly valuable experience, combining high-level networking with hands-on technical training and direct access to Dutch poultry leaders familiar with African markets. The programme quickly translated into concrete follow-up actions and partnerships, making it a rare and effective bridge between knowledge, collaboration, and real business impact in Africa."
